Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-4,6-10,12,13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Robinson [GB 2 311 910 A].

Regarding claims 1,8 Robinson discloses a method of providing access to different radio communication services for a radio communication device. Robinson further discloses a radio communication terminal connected with a base station over radio channels for making communications with the base station comprising:

- communication means for establishing multiple radio channels with the base station and making simultaneous communications over the multiple channels; See summary and page 3, line 14 – page 4, line 4;
- and informing means for informing an operator at the terminal of information transmitted to and received from the base station over the multiple channels for each radio channel. See Fig. 3 and page 5, lines 21-27.

Regarding claims 2,9 Robinson further discloses a communication terminal wherein the informing means has means for informing the operator of information received over each radio channel simultaneously. See page 5 lines 21-27 and Fig. 3.

Regarding claims 3,10 Robinson further discloses a radio communication terminal wherein the communication means has means for making at least voice data communication, video data communication, and message data communication. See summary of invention and Fig.3.

Regarding claim 4, Robinson further discloses a radio communication terminal wherein the informing means has display means that allows visual display. See Figs. 3,4 and page 5, lines 21-27.

Regarding claims 6,12,13 Robinson discloses a radio communication terminal connected with a base station over radio channels for making communications with the base station comprising:

- communication means for establishing multiple radio channels with the base station and making simultaneous communications over the multiple channels; See summary and page 3, line 14 – page 4, line 4; and
- input means used in common at the time of a communications over the multiple channels and having means for selecting one of radio channels established by the communication means and means for inputting information for making communications over the selected radio channel. See page 8, line 20 – page 9, line 24.

Regarding claim 7, Robinson further discloses a radio communication terminal wherein the communication means has means for making at least voice data communication, video data communication, and message data communication. See summary of invention and Fig.3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 5,11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Robinson [GB 2 311 910 A] in view of Smirnov [US 6,704,813].

Regarding claims 5,11, Robinson discloses all the limitations as claimed. However he does not disclose the radio communication terminal further comprising storage means for storing information utilized when radio communications are made, and wherein the informing means has means informing the operator of the information transmitted to and received from the base station and the information read from the storage means.

Smirnov, in the same field of endeavor, teaches the use of a radio communication terminal further comprising storage means for storing information utilized when radio communications are made, and wherein the informing means has means informing the operator of the information transmitted to and received from the base station and the information read from the storage means. See col. 3, lines 25-30; col. 4, lines 50-59; col. 5, lines 9-16 and 31-42; col. 6, line 65 - col. 7, line 16; col. 7, line 60 – col. 8, line 15.

Therefore it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the above teachings of Smirnov to Robinson in order to facilitate the user to store the streaming information for later viewing at the convenience of the user.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
